

PRIZES AWARDED BOYS' CORN CLUB

Master William Bolen Wins Trip to National Corn Convention at Columbia.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Culpeper, Va., November 17.—The Boys' Corn Club held a most enthusiastic meeting here yesterday, and prizes were awarded for the season's work.
The first prize was won by Master William F. Bolen, this being a trip to Columbia, S. C. to the National Corn Convention, which will be held in that city in January. His brother, Charles H. Bolen, and Master Dick O'Bannon tied for the second place, and each received a prize of $20 in money. The latter has raised 115 bushels on his allotted acre, and the Bolen had 198.
The latter, however, was given a prize of $5 by a visitor present for showing the ten best ears in the whole exhibit.
James Convin received a prize of $18 for making the fourth best place, he having made 105 bushels on his acre, and there were numbers of others who were close around the hundred mark.
It was notable as showing the interest felt by these youthful farmers, that every member of the club was present with one exception, and that one was prevented from attending by illness.

Addresses were made by W. C.
Shackelford, who is district agent in this work, and such representative farmers as W. H. Pleak, P. O. Bannan, Alfred Fullam, Mr. Downey, of Rockingham County, also made a short speech, in which he complimented the exhibit very highly and the boys who had produced it. Hon. Alden Bell closed the program with an address.

Miss Annie Bickers, daughter of the late Dr. W. A. Bickers, and Samuel Jones were married at St. Margaret's church, in Washington, on Tuesday.
The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hubert Scott Smith, the rector of the church, in the presence of a party of friends who had accompanied the couple to Washington. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Roger Bickers.

The funeral of Mrs. Barrell Compton was held from her late home near Boston, this county, on Sunday at 11 o'clock, her pastor, the Rev. Thomas Grimsley, officiating. Mrs. Compton was one of Culpeper's oldest citizens. She is survived by her husband and ten children.

E. F. Hutcherson, of Madison, received a telegram on Wednesday stating that his son, Fred Hutcherson, had been seriously injured in a truck wreck in Indianapolis. Mr. Hutcherson left at once for Indianapolis.

Arbor Day was observed in Madison Courtroom Friday, and trees of every variety were planted on the high school grounds, on the streets and in private grounds. While, for reasons of prudence, these trees were not planted with dynamite, a great many throughout the country have been planted by that method, this fall, and in every case great satisfaction has been expressed.

As a result of burns sustained last week, Mrs. Amanda Reed died Sunday night at the home of her niece, Mrs.
Flora Wood, where she had made her home for some years. Mrs. Reed, who was her eighty-seventh year, was the widow of Dr. A. A. Reed, and is survived by two daughters and one son—Mrs. R. W. Eastham, of Rappahannock; Mrs. Annie Wayman, of Texas, and John Reed, of Colorado. The funeral services were held in the Sperryville Baptist Church, with interment in the old family burying ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emmett Miller have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Caroline Rust, to Rev. William Joseph Reynolds, the ceremony to take place at 6 o'clock on the evening of Wednesday, November 20, in Lebanon Church, Woodville. Rev.
Mr. Reynolds has for several years served as pastor of the Washington, Sperryville and Woodville Baptist Churches.

Madison County is one of the few Virginia counties without a railroad.
Now crossing some part of it, and in consideration of this fact, the number of factories of different kinds in the county is rather remarkable. There are three furniture factories, one of which has been in operation ever since 1840; several harness factories, which run for the Madison apples, and more than a few flour and corn mills. A movement has been started to emphasize the industries and factories of this county by having a "Made in Madison" label on all furniture, flour, fruit, etc., that is exported.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Smith, of Madison Court, where their young son, Alexander, Elsie Yager, became the bride of Alexander H. Cave. Only members of the immediate families were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. M. C.
Fraser, pastor of the Beth Car Baptist church.

TWO CANDIDATES GET SAME VOTE

Unusual Result of Recent Election of State Senator in Yancey County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Asheville, N. C., November 17.—An unusual condition of affairs has followed the counting of the votes cast in the recent election in Yancey County for the State Senate. The two contestants, Charles G. Hutchins, the Democratic nominee, and R. W. Wilson, the candidate of the Republican party, polled the same number of ballots, each receiving 1,102 votes. The county board of elections, of which Mr. Hutchins is a member, has met and decided that the Democratic candidate was elected. Mr. Hutchins noting in his own favor. The board contends that it has the power to declare the nominee, although Mr. Wilson maintains that another election should be held. He has threatened to contest his rival's seat at the next session of the General Assembly, unless a popular vote is taken to decide the tie.

Charles Maney and Domes Shipman, two white boys about sixteen years of age, have been bound to the superior Court on a rather serious charge, having been arrested as the result of the complaint of C. F. Williams to the effect that he had been beaten up on Hill Street, in a very thickly settled district, and robbed.
The boys contend that one of the boys held a pistol in his face while the other went through his clothing for his money, securing about $70. The prisoners denied the charge. They were unable to furnish bond in the sum of $500 for their appearance at the next term of court and have been sent to jail to await trial.

At the annual meeting of the Asheville Young Men's Christian Association the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Julius C. Martin; vice-president, Dr. R. S. Carroll; secretary, A. G. Barnette; treasurer, Thomas J. Rickman.

The children of the public schools of Asheville will make special donations to the poor of this city Thanksgiving Day. Collections will be taken for a shoe fund for purchasing footwear for those who are unable to provide themselves with shoes, and clothing will be collected for the city's unfortunate. The distributions will be made through the Associated Charities, while provisions will be divided between that organization and the Mission Hospital. The Salvation Army, following the custom of Adjutant John Bouters for the past several years, will make special efforts to provide the poor with shoes for the coming cold months. They will be distributed on Thanksgiving Day.

A compromise has been effected in the suit of the County Board of Education against the city of Asheville, in which the plaintiff sought to secure the sum of $9,000 in fines collected in police court. The terms of the compromise provide that the city shall pay to the board approximately $400, and that in the future all fines imposed for violations of State laws will be placed to the credit of the County School Board. The costs in all cases, as well as penalties collected for violations of city ordinances, will go to the city.

Mayor Rankin has received a letter from President-elect Woodrow Wilson, thanking him for an invitation to spend his proposed vacation here, and regretting that he had made other plans. As soon as the local authorities learned that the President-elect was to take a vacation, an invitation was wired him, asking him to be the guest of the city, and offering either hotel accommodations or a furnished home.

President-elect Wilson's reply came yesterday, as follows:
"My Dear Mayor:
"The desire of the citizens of Asheville to have us spend our little vacation with them, as we are so graciously urged to do in the telegram signed by yourself, Mr. Weaver, and Mr. Bout-ner, has given Mrs. Wilson and myself the greatest pleasure. The charms of Asheville do not need to be commended to us; we know them of old.
Some of the most delightful days of our lives have been spent there. But I had already made arrangements to go elsewhere. Indeed, I am running for a little while away from America altogether.

"With you convey to all concerned my warm appreciation and most sincere regret that we are not just now free to renew our old acquaintance with beautiful Asheville?"

"Cordially yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

The old acquaintance of the President-elect and Mrs. Wilson with Asheville dates from their boyhood, which was spent in this city.

The members of the French Broad Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city, have arranged for a jollification meeting, which will be held at the lodge rooms Thursday night in honor of the members of the organization who were successful in the recent election and those who participated in the campaign, including: Governor-elect Locke Craig, State Senator-elect Zebulon Weaver, Representative Robert R.

Williams and Third Assistant Postmaster-General James J. Britt. All of the lodges of the extreme western counties of this State have been invited to send representatives to the gathering, which promises to be a very enjoyable event.

DOG GIVES CHASE TO CENSUS-TAKER

Encouraged by Owner, Who Resents Questions Asked on Behalf of Church.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Norfolk, Va., November 17.—One of the church census-takers in Park Place was greeted by a bull dog when he made his mission known to one of the residents upon whom he called.
The enumerator beat a hasty retreat, and thereby saved his trousers from the fury of the dog, which was encouraged by its owner, who was outraged that the church should meddle with what he considered his private affairs.

One hundred and fifty men and women made a complete canvass of Park Place, formerly the seventh ward, for the purpose of finding out how many of the residents do not attend any of the churches and the reason therefor.
The canvassers started at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, and met at a central church at 5 o'clock.

Many of the canvassers reported unique experiences. While they were generally cordially received, in a few instances they were rebuffed, and their queries failed to secure the information desired.

The canvassers will meet again next Thursday night to tabulate the statistics and to tell among themselves the experiences encountered.

WILL ADD STORY TO CITY HOSPITAL

Money for Enlargement Donated by Son of Charles Broadway Rouse.

Winchester, Va., November 17.— Peter Winchester Rouse, of New York, has authorized the Winchester Memorial Hospital Association to carry out its proposed intention of building another story to its already large institution and send the bill to him for payment. Mr. Rouse is the son of the late Charles Broadway Rouse, the blind New York merchant, whose public and private benefactions in Winchester during his lifetime amounted to several hundred thousand dollars.
Mr. Rouse, who is now at the head of the great mercantile business left by his father, was in town recently with a party of friends, and, incidentally, hearing of the need of another story on the hospital building, he visited the institution, and then instructed the authorities to proceed with the work at his expense.

More Christmas money is to be distributed on Thursday of this week by Graham F. Blandy, of New York, among the men and women of Clarke County, who are competing for handsome cash prizes in Mr. Blandy's second annual turkey-raising contest.
A few weeks ago Mr. Blandy, who owns the noted old "Turkey" farm, once the home of the late Colonel U. L.
Boyce, near White Post, distributed similar prizes among the farmers of that county in a corn-growing contest. Last year he held a turkey-raising contest, and the first prize was won by Mrs. Charles Schick, who not only received a good-sized check from Mr. Blandy, but who sold her turkeys to a Washington hotel for over $200.

Rev. M. L. Camp, formerly of Mount Jackson, Shenandoah County, but who has been pastor of a Lutheran church at High Point, N. C. for several years, has accepted a call to the Lutheran Church of the Epiphany, in New York, and will take charge about December 1.

The instinct of a horse to return to his master's home was clearly demonstrated here in two instances a few days ago. A man named Shiley, who lives nineteen miles west of Winchester, left a two-horse team standing loosely in front of the home of a friend, and when he returned he found the horses had left. A telephone message several hours later announced that the horses had arrived at the stable door. One night later a county resident left his horse standing in a hitching yard, and when he returned he found the horse was gone. The police said that it had turned up at the stable of a Winchester man from whom he had bought the horse only recently.

John Knadler, a young farmer of Berkeley County, who is accused of being responsible for the death of his father, M. M. Knadler, recently, when the dead body of the latter was found lying across a watering trough on the J. W. Stewart farm, of which he was manager, was to have been given a hearing last week in Martinburg, but it was indefinitely postponed, and Knadler is being held in jail without bail for the action of the grand jury. The son is known to have been taken to task by his father for alleged mistreatment of the former's wife.

Miss Ada E. Showalter, daughter of Andrew J. Showalter, of Mount Clinton, Rockingham County, who came here a few days ago to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.
Claude Showalter, was joined the following morning by Mr. Raphael Painter, of Dayton, and they were married the same afternoon at Washington by Rev. Donald C. MacLeod, of the Presbyterian Church. They left for Hollendale, Fla., where Dr. Painter has a winter practice.

A large quantity of beautiful flowers which were placed by relatives and friends upon the grave of Little Virginia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
W. Ray Smith, in Cent Hill Cemetery here a few days ago, were stolen the same afternoon or the following morning, and were recognized at a dinner held that night in the House of Representatives.

Miss Naomi Rhodes, daughter of Mrs. Ella Rhodes, of Broadway, who left her home one morning last week for the purpose of going to Washington, and there wed a young man who had arranged to meet her at the station, was stopped at Strasburg and taken back home by a deputy sheriff.
Miss Rhodes, who is sixteen years of age and very attractive, made no effort to conceal her anger, and, biting her lips, she vowed that she would accomplish her purpose, and that very even.

One of the principal features in connection with the recent meeting of the Ministerial Association of the Disciple Church of Virginia, held at Strasburg, was the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. J. D. Hamaker, as pastor of the church of that place.

Just watch crowds of men anywhere! See how many smoke

TERRELL'S CAREER ENDED BY DEATH

He Was Former United States Senator and Twice Governor of Georgia.

JOSEPH M. TERRELL.

Atlanta, Ga., November 17.—Former United States Senator Joseph M. Terrell, twice Governor of the State of Georgia, died at his home here to-day after an extended illness.

Senator Terrell was stricken with paralysis in February, 1911, a few months after he had been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late United States Senator A. S. Clay. Although his illness made it necessary for him to retire from public life, Senator Terrell's condition did not become critical until a week ago. Senator Terrell was born in Merryweather County, Ga., in 1841. After serving in both houses of the State Legislature he was elected to the office of Attorney-General of the State in 1892. He resigned this office after serving ten years and was elected Governor, to which office he was re-elected at the expiration of the first term.

At the death of United States Senator Clay, in November, 1910, Mr. Terrell was appointed by Governor Joseph M. Brown to serve the unexpired term.
The body of Senator Terrell will be taken to Greenville, Ga., for interment.
A guard of honor from the Fifth Regiment, National Guard, of Georgia, will be detailed to accompany the body.

Alleged Attempted Arson.
Henry Williams, an aged negro barber, was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Mary Banks, also colored, charging him with attempting to set fire to her house in Lynchburg, Bottom.

Rev. Marshall Hall Lane Died.
Atlanta, Ga., November 17.—Rev. Marshall Hall Lane, a well-known Baptist minister and educator in the South, died here to-day at the age of sixty-seven. Dr. Lane formerly was pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Nashville, Tenn.; occupied pulpits in several Georgia cities and towns and traveled for several years as an evangelist in Southern States. For six years he was president of the Horn Institute, at Cave Springs, Ga. He recently suffered a stroke of paralysis.

BRINGS CHARGE AGAINST HUSBAND

Mrs. Mullane Tells Revolting Story in Connection With Recent Attack.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Poplar Bluff, Mo., November 17.— Mrs. Lillie C. Mullane, of Stafford County, Va., who corroborated the allegation made by her husband, Thomas J. Mullane, that she was attacked and kept prisoner all of one day by thirteen men near Annapolis, Mo., confessed to-day that her husband practically compelled her to submit to her assaults in the city jail, having been arrested late yesterday as he was about to board a train. He had visited the home where his wife was stopping, abused her, it is alleged, and declared his intention to be 500 miles away within twenty-four hours.

A warrant has been issued charging him with disturbing the peace of Mrs.
Mullane's caretaker.

Mrs. Mullane has been arrested twice before in the last week on minor charges, the police being determined that no influences should keep him from appearing as a witness Monday in the trial of the thirteen men at front.

The issuance of a warrant caused Mrs. Mullane's appearance before Prosecuting Attorney Ing and the subsequent statement which was made in writing. She insists Mullane did not move to protect her, but aided her when she rebelled against what she asserts was his insistent suggestion.
He denies the charges.

place aboard a train. Captain Mills could not be reached last night. Crane was held for his appearance in Police Court.

RUSH FOR DOORS BY CONGREGATION

Fatal Stampede Narrowly Averted When Church Is Found to Be in Flames.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bristol, Va., November 17.—A congregation of 300 persons narrowly escaped what threatened to be a fatal stampede here this afternoon when Virginia Avenue Methodist Church was destroyed by a fire which originated in the roof, due to a defective flue.

Mistaking the roar of the blaze over their heads for a passing train, the congregation was late in receiving the alarm. Although there was a rush for the doors, nobody was injured. The edifice was practically destroyed before the firemen could reach it. The loss is $4,000, with $1,500 insurance.

The building was the property of Holston Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.
